

John Kauffman

Vice President of Information Systems

With over 15 years in the corporate travel industry, John Kauffman joined Casto in 2003 as a result of the merger between Casto and RiserGroup. Initially responsible for managing Casto's information systems and telecommunications, John proved himself adept in identifying new technologies and implementing to achieve further efficiencies within Casto's operations.

In 2006, John was promoted to the Director of Information Solutions with responsibilities including managing Casto's Automation department, integrating Casto's online travel solutions, managing all telecommunications, and implementing new technologies for Casto.